Letter from Nelson

As most of you know, we had a wonderful Millennium Family Reunion. We had a great time visiting with all in attendance. The food and entertainment was exceptional and we had a blast doing the Family Feud game. Our service team did a great job getting everyone parked and taken care of. It was a humbling experience to see the Millennium family together, especially during the family photo. Our administrative staff did a good job planning and organizing the daily events. Once again, Cuisiniers, the best catering and event planning group, provided impeccable service and tasty food! Special thanks to my wife Lara for organizing and planning and making it all come together flawlessly! If you missed this year's rally, you missed an awesome week. Start making plans for next year's family reunion which will be held the last week of February 2018.

What's next?

Millennium is considered the best customer care provider in the industry. Not only do we take care of our customers, Millennium owners, our service department performs a wide variety of services on coaches made by other convertors. So how do we make the best even better?

I have been thinking about how to make our customer service efforts better and kept hitting a brick wall. I couldn't seem to think my way over or around this hurdle. Thankfully, I am blessed to be surrounded by the most amazing group of customers anyone could imagine. You are all a source of inspiration and knowledge.

One day during our rally Roy Johnson, one of our customers, called me over and we sat down to chat. I love these chats, especially when people like Roy share their experience and offer some wise advice. Roy is a service oriented business owner and as a result is very successful at what he does. He explained to me how his company provided service and how his customers and his company both benefitted from this process. This conversation helped me come up with a plan!

Some of you have seen the Millennium service van. This van travels with us wherever we go, to rallies and different events throughout the country. Over the next three years, we plan to add four more service vans. We have identified five different regions of the country and we plan to have a van dedicated to each of these regions. Once or twice a year we will hit the road, visiting our customers at home to do inspections, answer questions and perform any needed service work. Roy called this a "concentrated effort". We will have the correct technicians and parts needed to get the job done and bring them to your door!

We will continue to provide customer support at the major resorts around the country such as Motorcoach Country Club in California, Mountain Falls Luxury Motorcoach Resort in North Carolina, Traverse Bay RV Resort and Hearthside Grove Motorcoach Resort in Michigan and Tiger Run Motor Coach Resort in Colorado.

So how do we make the best better? We do so by listening and learning, by having a plan and executing it consistently and by being proactive. Most of all we do so by being around people like you and Roy, people who have been where I am today and have been extremely successful.

Thank you all for being a part of our success and for sharing your knowledge with me.

See you on the road!

Letter from Alex

Have you ever known something was just a little irresponsible, but done it anyway? Have you ever been advised against something, maybe because it's a little dangerous, but done it anyway? Have you ever been called to do something no one else really understands, but done it anyway? I believe God calls to us in the most mysterious ways – not always in a church pew on Sunday mornings. Sometimes he calls us out into the irresponsible, dangerous wilderness, and amidst your doubts he whispers, do it anyway.

I am so young, and every year older that I get I somehow feel like I understand everything a little less. When another unique opportunity to leave the comfort of home here in the U.S. recently presented itself to me, I was a little doubtful. So, I did what everyone does when we don't know what to do – I called my Dad! I had saved just enough money working as a waitress to go somewhere that had been on my bucket list for years, and I was debating whether or not draining my savings account to make it a reality. He did his best to advise me, reminding me of my financial obligations and the importance of saving for a rainy day. Two weeks later, my bank account had a whopping balance of seven dollars and I was stepping off a plane into the sunny and humid Jungle of Chiang Mai, Thailand.

My roommate and I had decided to take the leap, against all advice that two young women traveling alone was probably not the safest course of action. I spent a week in Thailand, traveling with my best friend, living on less than nine dollars a day. There wasn't a pivotal, life changing moment, but more of a slow burn of fulfillment which turned into the kind of joy you can feel deep in your stomach. While so many of my peers were spending their spring breaks sipping margaritas in Cancun, I was caring for elephants at a remote mountain sanctuary. I met people who lived their entire lives earning less per week than I often spend on a single meal. It was such a humbling experience that I came back grateful for what felt like a charmed life.

The afternoon I got back to LA, I received a call from my Dad. What he said affirmed me, "Never let anyone hold you back, but more importantly, never hold yourself back." I realize that I am more of an adventurer than most, but fulfilling risk doesn't always take the form of international travel. As I sit here typing, after applying for more than 16 jobs all over the country, I realize that adulthood has finally caught up with me. Time to 'buckle down' as Nelson would say. Nonetheless, I will always remember my time in Thailand, and hopefully I'll eventually get the chance to be just a little irresponsible again!

love, Alex

Mouthwatering Meat Marinades

Cocoa Chili Rub

Ingredients

- 3 tbs brown sugar
- 1-2 tbs unsweetened cocoa powder
- 1 tbs chili powder
- ½ tsp garlic powder
- ½ tsp onion powder
- ¼ tsp cinnamon
- ½ tsp salt
- 1 pinch cayenne pepper (optional)

Directions

Place all ingredients in a Ziploc bag and shake evenly to blend. Rub on pork chops, pork tenderloin, chicken legs or thighs. Allow at least 2 hours to marinate before grilling or broiling.

Blueberry, balsamic and rosemary glaze

Ingredients

- 3 tbs brown sugar
- 1-2 tbs unsweetened cocoa powder
- 1 tbs chili powder
- ½ tsp garlic powder
- ½ tsp onion powder
- ¼ tsp cinnamon
- ½ tsp salt
- 1 pinch cayenne pepper (optional)

Directions

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Heat 1 tablespoon each oil and butter in a large, heavy nonreactive skillet. Season chicken with ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper and add to the pan when the oil and butter are hot and bubbly. Sear chicken breasts over medium-high heat until golden brown, about 1 minute per side or until light crust forms. Remove to a baking dish and set aside.

Add remaining olive oil and butter to the skillet and, when hot, stir in shallots and cook until soft and lightly caramelized, about 4 minutes. Add blueberries and cook 1 minute. Stir in vinegar, maple syrup, rosemary, remaining salt and pepper and simmer about 10 minutes, or until the blueberries have collapsed. Pour the blueberry balsamic mixture over the chicken and put baking dish in the top half of oven for about 10 minutes, until the chicken has cooked through to a temperature of 165 degrees.

Tequila-lime Marinade

Ingredients

- ¼ cup vegetable oil
- 3 tbs fresh lime juice
- 2 tbs triple sec
- 1 large jalapeno chili, seeded, minced
- 1 ½ tsp grated lime peel
- 1 tsp chili powder
- 1 tsp sugar
- ½ tsp coarse salt

Directions

Place all ingredients in a Ziploc bag and shake evenly to blend. Rub on pork chops, pork tenderloin, chicken legs or thighs. Allow at least 2 hours to marinate before grilling or broiling.

Coffee Rubbed Steaks

Ingredients

- 2 tablespoons ancho chile powder
- 2 tablespoons finely ground coffee beans
- 5 teaspoons dark brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon hot smoked Spanish paprika
- 1 ½ teaspoons dried oregano
- 1 ½ teaspoons freshly ground black pepper
- 1 ½ teaspoons ground coriander
- 1 ½ teaspoons mustard powder

- 1 teaspoon chile de árbol powder or ¾ teaspoon finely ground red pepper flakes
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 tablespoon kosher salt, plus more
- 2 16-ounce boneless New York strip steaks (about 1 inch thick)
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil

Direction

Mix ancho chile powder, ground coffee, brown sugar, paprika, dried oregano, pepper, coriander, mustard, chile de árbol powder, ginger, and 1 Tbsp. salt in a small bowl. Season steaks with salt, then coat with 5 tsp. spice rub per steak (save any extra rub for your next steak). Place on a wire rack set inside a rimmed baking sheet and chill uncovered 3–6 hours. Let steaks sit 1 hour to come to room temperature, which will help them cook quickly and more evenly. Preheat oven to 400°. Heat oil in a large skillet over medium-high. Cook steaks 2 minutes or so on each side to create a nice crust. Transfer skillet to oven; cook steaks until an instant-read thermometer inserted into the thickest part registers 120° for medium-rare, about 5 minutes. Transfer steaks to a cutting board; let rest 10 minutes. Slice ½” thick.

DESTINATION BOZEMAN

SOUTHWEST MONTANA

Located in southwest Montana, Bozeman is an underrated travel destination that has a diverse choice of attractions and activities all year round. It is surrounded by National Forests, mountains and rivers which provide amazing access to outdoor recreation. Within the city limits, Bozeman's downtown has a charming variety of mom and pop cafes, shops, art galleries, theaters, restaurants and bars housed by the beautiful historic architecture. If you want to get away from the hustle and bustle of the city, just step into Bozeman's backyard and you'll find yourself in Yellowstone National Park, America's first National Park, with endless amounts of scenic nature to explore. Bozeman is as refreshing and tranquil as it is rugged and exhilarating. The challenging part is deciding what time of year to visit. Since Bozeman is in a valley, the weather is never too hot or humid. Sunny days and cool nights make it an ideal place to visit during the Spring and Summer months. You will want to get outside and take in all the excitement and beauty Mother Nature has to offer. There are so many outdoor activities, such as hiking or driving to one of the many look out points to catch a beautiful sunset, going to a farmer's market, taking an art walk or attending one of the area's many different outdoor art or music festivals. Another popular pastime is floating down the famous Madison River. Take the whole day to drift lazily down the river and enjoy the scenery from a new perspective. For the thrill seekers in the crowd, you may choose to shoot the rapids of the Gallatin River on a kayak. When the city is covered in snow, you will find yourself in the middle of a hub of winter adventure.

Winter sport enthusiasts can find world class ski resorts, cross country skiing trails and beautiful back country canyons calling to be explored by snowmobile or snowshoe. One of the area's more unique experiences is discovering Yellowstone by snow coach. This thrilling and engaging tour allows you to kick back in a customized coach that is capable of maneuvering through the snow-covered trails.
